Christ Episcopal Church

The Caller

From Fr. Tristan

Friends,

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. I hope that this has been a season that has fed your soul.

I am writing this on my one year anniversary of joining Christ Episcopal Church. As I look back at the past year I look at our work through the lens of our tag line, Love God, Love your neighbor, Change the world! I am proud of the work we have done in sharing God's love with our neighbors. You have done great work in changing the world around us, just as God has called you to do. I am also excited about 2017 as I think we are just beginning our work.

In my reflection, I wonder what are we doing to love God. I know that this has been an area that I have not focused on in my preaching and I apologize for that. I understand loving God in a very personal way. I see it as giving thanks and praising God in my prayer and daily life. I also believe we show our love for God by sharing God's love, hope, and acceptance with the world around us. However, we also love God and share this love as a church community.

We can love God by becoming involved in our worship. You see worship is how we come together and love God as a community, and by becoming involved in worship you help our community express its love of God. You can do this by volunteering as a greeter, by being a reader, by reading the prayers of the people, by acolyting, and by being a chalice bearer. Is this something you already do? Then sign up for the next six months on the bulletin board outside of the church office. Is this something you want to do but haven't? Then sign up for the next six months on the bulletin board outside of the church office. We are happy to help you by offering training. Have a question about these opportunities? See me or Deacon Barbara.

2017 will be a great year. We will love God. We will love our neighbor. And, we will change the world. We just need your help.

Warmly,
Tristan+

From Your Senior Warden

John Blue

It has been a year since Father Tristan was called to Christ Episcopal Church, and he has worked his way through all of the church seasons along with the traditions that are unique to our church—traditions that are as normal to us as Sunday coffee hour but to Father Tristan were somewhat foreign, such as the blessing of the animals, the live nativity and celebration Sunday. Father Tristan has done an outstanding job throughout the year as he worked through the seasons and made sure our church was welcoming and comfortable for everyone.

I hope everyone got the opportunity to attend at least one of the three services over Christmas and not only were able to enjoy the service but to enjoy the outstanding job the Alter Guild did to prepare the church for Christmas. The poinsettias, evergreens and candles transformed our church into a very uplifting place to celebrate the season.

On January 29, we will be having our annual meeting and potluck immediately after the 10 o'clock service. We elect Vestry members and approve the church budget for 2017. This will be my last annual meeting as your Senior Warden, and I will do my best to keep the meeting short, allowing more time for us to eat and visit with each other as a family.

*By The Rev.
Barbara von Haaren*

As the year 2016 comes to an end, perhaps it is time we should take a look at, and take stock of our discipleship over the past year. Think about how we have grown in Christ. Ask how has our faith strengthened? And how have we embraced the call of grace to be more radical in our discipleship?

Look at how we have invited others to join us in prayer, at worship, or simply with a gentle cup of coffee. Listen for the voice of God, telling us to move into the new year with openness to God's leading as we journey down new paths in 2017.

Words from Steve

By Steve Gheen, Transitional Deacon

Greetings everyone! This is my first time writing for the Caller. I'm pretty sure most of you know who I am by now, but just in case you don't, I'm Steve Gheen. I'm a transitional deacon interning here at Christ Episcopal Church. I was ordained a deacon last June and began my internship at the beginning of September 2016.

Currently I'm preparing for my Canonical Assessment exams. These used to be called General Ordination Exams or GOE's until last year. They test my knowledge of the seven canonical areas of the church, i.e. Holy Scripture, Sermons, Ethics, History, Worship, Theology and Social Justice. The assessment team has sent me questions and scenario's for me to write compositions about in preparation for a retreat I will be attending in Faribault from January 11 through 13. I will be sequestered there day and night. There is a team of six people assembled to give me oral exams. Last year they had somewhere around seven people taking the CA's. This year I'm the lone ranger. I'll be their only victim. I'm asking everyone for their support during this stressful time. You can support me by saying prayers for me. I'm pretty sure that God will hear the prayers of an entire congregation. I'm counting on you to give me the strength to make it through these exams.

I'm enjoying my time at your church and hope that your experience with me is as rewarding for you as it has been for me. My internship will end at the end of May, but I will still be living in the area with my wonderful wife, Kiki. We will attend services in Red Wing occasionally and perhaps even fill in for Tristan some time when he is away on vacation. We will break bread together.

Community Engagement

The Community Engagement Team will begin our second year this month on January 14 at 1030 am in the Parish Hall at Christ Episcopal Church. Our goal is to partner with people/organizations in the community of Red Wing. We have been involved with Walks for a variety of causes; we have made food for some organizations; we have tried to be examples of the love of God, seeing the face of Christ in everyone we meet.

If you are interested in being part of this Team, or if you just want to observe our (sometimes rowdy) meetings, please do join us. If you have an idea for some type of engagement in the community, please let us know. You may call the church office (388-0411) and leave a message for the Community Engagement Team. We are looking forward to an exciting new year!

Post-Inaugural Prayer Service

Washington National Cathedral will again play out one of its traditional roles in U.S. life next month by offering Donald Trump and the nation a chance to come together in prayer.

The 58th Presidential Inaugural Prayer Service will take place Jan. 21, the day after Trump is sworn in as the country's the 45th president. No other details have been made public. Typically, the services have been both ecumenical and interreligious.

"The cathedral is a sacred space for the nation to come together at moments of national importance, including the inauguration of our presidents," a statement from the cathedral said. "The Inaugural Prayer Service is a moment for our next president to pause and contemplate the incredible responsibility he has been entrusted with and to listen as the faith community offers prayers for the office of the president."

The Washington Post reported that Trump plans to attend a private family church service at St. John's Episcopal Church near LaFayette Square near the White House the morning of the Jan. 20 inauguration. The parish has traditionally offered that opportunity to incoming presidents.

The cathedral service will be held on a Saturday morning, during the Jewish Sabbath, when observant Jews are forbidden to drive or use electricity, among other restrictions, potentially complicating efforts to find a rabbi to participate in the service. Ivanka Trump and her husband Jared Kushner are Orthodox Jews and would face the same Shabbat limits. The inauguration is constitutionally mandated to be held on Jan. 20, and the prayer service is usually held the next day.
